

ogi

WANTED, Apprentice Organic Growers.

The Organic Growers of Ireland are looking for apprentice growers for next season. The programme provides comprehensive work experience in Organic Horticulture on some of the best organic farms in the country.

Alongside this there are a programme of workshops, farm walks and training days delivered by experts from the sector. This is a minimum 6 month programme which will start in March/April next year, depending on Farm placement.

It is open to people with a horticultural qualification or those with at least one years work experience on a farm.

For further information on the scheme see www.organicgrowersireland.ie

or for expressions of interest email
futuregrowers1@gmail.com